COURSE RATING SERVICES

The Virginia State Golf Association is responsible for determining and issuing a Course Rating™ and Slope Rating™ for all golf courses in Virginia. New golf courses can change frequently during the first years after construction and must be re-rated within five years of the initial rating date. Thereafter, golf courses must be re-rated at least once every 10 years. A golf course must no longer use its rating if they are more than 10 years old. Rounds played on a golf course with expired ratings are not acceptable for handicap purposes.

Note: Unless otherwise stated, a club's new Course Rating™ and Slope Rating™ shall not take effect until January 1st of the year after the course rating was conducted. Its current ratings will remain in effect until December 31st of the year the course rating was conducted.
