USGA EXEMPTION EVENT

For the first time, the winner of the VSGA Junior Girls' Championship will earn automatic qualification into the U.S. Girls' Junior. This year's U.S. Girls' Junior will be held July 15-20 at El Caballero CC in Tarzana, Calif. Four VSGA members have already qualified for the event: Raquel Walker, Sophie Cao, Emerson Roychoudhury, and Maria Isabella Errichetto. Of those four, Roychoudhury is the only one in the VSGA Junior Girls' field. If she should win, there would be no additional exemption awarded.

Roanoke's Kathryn Ha, the 2023 VSGA Junior Girls' Golfer of the Year, enters this event ranked 34th nationally in the AJGA Girls' rankings. Ha was a member of last year's U.S. Junior Solheim Cup team. Others in the field who are ranked inside the top 1,000 of the AJGA Girls' rankings include Alisa Davidova (162), Ashnoor Kaur (428), Emerson Roychoudhury (466), Kennedy MacCleery (705), Annabel Widdifield (728), Rose Hall (835), Carter Bransford (893), and Catherine Qiu (917).

- Addie Doroh is the lone past champion in the field. Doroh won her title in 2021 as a 14-year-old at Faquier Springs Country Club. She's coming off a strong finish at the 2nd Women's Open of Virginia. She posted scores of 72-76-71 to finish alone in seventh place, tops among Virginia juniors competing in the event.
- Davidova is the sister of past VSGA Junior Stroke Play champion Samir Davidov, who plays at George Mason.
- Kennedy MacCleery is the younger sister of 2022 VSGA Junior Girls' champion Elsie MacCleery.
- Both Emerson Roychoudhury and her sister Maeve have participated in the National Drive, Chip and Putt finals.
- 2023 champion Macie Rasmussen is not in the field.
- James River is hosting the Junior Girls' Championship for the first time. It has hosted the VSGA Junior Stroke Play Championship twice, most recently in 2020.
